counsel as well as the appellant and the respondent. It is further contended that the parties are staying separately for number of years. Mr.Mehadia, the learned counsel for the respondent-husband, states that the cheques mentioned in clause (iii) of the said application are handed over to the learned counsel for the petitioner today in the court. The learned counsel for the petitioner states that he has received the cheques. It is jointly prayed that the compromise decree may be passed and marriage may be declared to be dissolved by mutual consent.

4. In view of the above-referred undisputed facts as well as looking to the contents of the joint application moved by the appellant as well as the respondent, it is evident that the dispute between the parties is amicably settled and the terms of compromise are reflected in the application. The said application is also signed by the learned respective counsel as well as the appellant and the respondent. Parties are also staying separately for number of years. In the circumstances, appeal is disposed of. The marriage between the parties stands dissolved by mutual consent. The decree be drawn accordingly in terms of joint application dated 10/7/2006.
